

Mennonites in the Civil Records of Troszyn Polski, Mazovia, Poland: 1809 – 1867

Prepared by Glenn H Penner (gpenner@uoguelph.ca)

All of the church records for the Mennonite congregation of Deutsch Wymyschle and nearly all of the church records of the Mennonite congregation of Deutsch Kazun were destroyed at various times – mostly during or at the end of World War II. Fortunately, the French introduced the Napoleonic civil code into this area in 1807-09. These records were initially kept by the local Catholic clergy. Many of the Mennonites in this area lived in the parish of Troszyn Polski and their births, marriages and deaths are included in the Troszyn Polski civil registers.

The following years are missing from my source: 1821, 1823, 1826, 1828-31, births 1835, marriages 1833 & 1835, deaths 1833-1835. Births #1-14 for 1812 are missing, but the index is not.

The translations were done by a professional translator. It should be noted that some of these records were extremely hard to read and some words were simply unreadable. My comments are in square brackets.

An interesting feature of these records is that some give the house numbers of the people mentioned. It appears that some of these people lived in multi-family dwellings.

The records are sorted, first by event (Births, Marriages and then Deaths) and then by surname.

Correspondence between Polish first names and German equivalents commonly used by Mennonites:

Agnieszka = Anganetha
Andrzej = Andreas
Benedict = Benjamin
Eleonora = Helena
Elżbieta = Elisabeth
Ewa = Eva
Franciszek = Franz
Gerard = Gerhard
Henryk = Heinrich
Israel = Isaac
Jan = Johann
Jerzy = Georg = Gerhard
Jędrzej = Andreas
Karol/Karl = Kornelius
Katarzyna = Katharina
Klaudyasz = Klaas = Nicolaus
Małgorzata = Margaretha

Marcin = Martin

Maryanna/Marya = Maria

Piotr = Peter

Teresa = Sara

Wojciech = ?????

Note included here are some names for which equivalents are obvious or identical.

Below are a few Polish terms which appear in these records:

wyrobnik = someone who was hired to work (usually on a farm). It can also mean just a worker.

okupnik = someone who needed to pay a rent for a house or/and land (same as czynszownik) czynszownik = someone who needed to pay a rent for a house or/and land (same as okupnik)

pluciennik = weaver

gospodarz = farmer (usually someone who had its own farm) komornik = a farmer who did not have his own farm. Such people usually resided by their families or employer.

kolonista = “colonist” or farmer.

Economy = steward

Kaczmarz = inn keeper

Pluciennik = cloth maker

Ogrodnik = small farmer

Szulmayster = school master (teacher)

The following are some of locations mentioned in these records:

Czermno

Holendry Czerminskie

Jaczemin

Leonowo

Oledtry Troszynskie or Troszyn Olszyny

Parów

Piaski

Potrzebna/Patrzeba

Rumunek Troszynski

Troszyn

Troszyn Piaski

At this point no further information is given. Hopefully, in the future, a guide to all ‘Mennonite’ locations in the Polish Province of Masovia (i.e. the regions of the Deutsch Kazun and Deutsch Wymyschle congregations) will be available.

Troszyn. On 1 December 1819. In front of us the Troszyn priest and the Civil Records Officer of the Troszyn county, Gostynin district and Mazowieckie province. Came Henryk Foüt, a widower, born in Dryzno [maybe it should be Drezno which is Dresden in Germany?], and renting a plot of land (okupny grunt) in Troszyn. Legitimate son of the late Piotr Faut and Katarzyna. Age 53. Born on 12 June. He does not have any relatives from the (linia wstępująca) descendant line? His birth certificate was taken from the Mennonite's books of the priest who resides in Jączemin [so this means he could not have been born in Dresden, Germany]. Came also pani (lady / Mrs) Sara Kanka nee Buler, a widow. Born in Dresno and residing as a worker in Troszyn. Her birth certificate was taken from the Mennonite's books of the priest who resides in Jączemin. Age 49. Born on 15 November. Legitimate daughter of the late Andrzej Buler and Sara nee Fout. She does not have any relatives from the (linia wstępująca) descendant line? The newlyweds claim to start the marriage ceremony. The banns were announced in front of the main door of the community hall. The first on 7 November, the second on 14 November of the current year at 12 pm. No obstacles were encountered. We are in favor of that claim and after reading of all papers and the paragraph # 6 of the Napoleon Law about the marriages, we have asked the groom and the bride whether they want to be married? Each of them separately answered that this is their will. We declare that in the name of the law Henryk Foüt, a widower and Pani Sara Kanka, a widow are married. This was recorded in the presence of Adam [Pekroll?], okupnik, age 64, Henryk Buler, okupnik, age 38, Gotfryd Szreyder, wyrobnik, age 34 and Marcin Derynk, inn-keeper, age 34, all residing in Troszyn. This document was read to the newlyweds and the witnesses and it was signed only by us. The others did not know how to write. Rev. Erazm Łęgowski, Troszyn priest and civil records keeper.

according to the birth certificate taken from the Mennonite's books of the priest who resides in Jączemin. In the assistance of his parents Korneli Wedel, okupnik and Katarzyna nee Nachtygal, residing in Jączemin; and Elżbieta Durał, a spinster. Born and residing as a worker in Jączemin. Age 18. Born on 27 December, according to the birth certificate. In the assistance of the mother Maryanna Durał nee Szreyber, a worker residing in Jączemin. The father Piotr Durał is deceased. The newlyweds claim to start the marriage ceremony. The bans were announced in front of the main door of the community hall. The first on 7 November, the second on 14 November of the current year at 12 pm. No obstacles were encountered. The parents gave permission to this marriage. We are in favor of that claim and after reading of all papers and the paragraph # 6 of the Napoleon Law about the marriages, we have asked the groom and the bride whether they want to be married? Each of them separately answered that this is their will. We declare that in the name of the law Piotr Wedel, a bachelor and Elżbieta Durał, a spinster are married. This was recorded in the presence of Krystyan [Rynah or Rynas?], okupnik, age 33, Michał Prochnol, okupnik, age 40, Marcin Derink, inn-keeper, age 34, Korneli Rudt, okupnik, age 45, all residing in Jączemin. This document was read to the newlyweds and the witnesses and it was signed only by us. The others did not know how to write. Rev. Erazm Łęgowski, Troszyn priest and civil records keeper.
