

Chortitza Mennonite Settlement Census for 14 October 1797

Central State Historical Archive, St. Petersburg
Fond 383, Opus 29, Delo 159

Edited by Richard D. Thiessen and Glenn H. Penner

This is the first official census taken of the Chortitza settlement, as of 14 October 1797, covering the 228 families that established the first eight colonies, followed by Schoenwiese and Kronsgarten, founded in 1797, and also adds the 86 families of the 118 families of 1793-96 immigrants, which at the time were still quartered in 7 of the original 8 colonies. -- Dr. David G. Rempel

The census is divided into parts A and B. The heading for part A states that this document shows the number of souls and their economic standing in the Chortitza Mennonite villages, district of Ekaterinoslav, province of New Russia. Part A then lists the inhabitants of the following eight villages: Chortitza, Rosental, Insel Chortitza, Einlage, Kronsweide, Neuenburg, Neuendorf, and Schoenhorst. Totals for each village are given, along with a total for all Mennonite villages.

Part A also states that in addition to the present Chortitza villages the Mennonites also have 10 windmills. The total land area for the eight villages that is good for ploughing is 21,460 dessiatine (1 dess. = 2.7 acres = 1.0925 hectares); land that is good for hay making is 987 dessiatine; and land that is forest is 240 dessiatine. These three categories add up to 22,687 dessiatine. Poor quality land is 1,293 dessiatine.

Part B is a record of newly arrived Mennonite settlers in the years 1793-1796, and their designated places, showing the number of souls and their economic standing. The villages include: Schoenwiese, in the district of the fortress of Alexandrovsk; Kronsgarten, in the colony of Josephstal; and Chortitza, Rosental, Einlage, Kronsweide, Neuenburg, Neuendorf and Schoenhorst in Ekaterinoslav. Totals are given for Schoenwiese, Kronsgarten and the seven original villages, as well as a total for all newly arrived Mennonites.

Both parts A and B are signed by the following Russian officials:

Vice Governor Dischilrij _____, Governor Adviser Nikita Tjurennikov, and Secretary Efrem Nedshaev. Part B is also signed by Assessor Stepan Mirapobutsch.

A copy of this census was first brought to North America as a Russian language transcription written by the late Dr. David G. Rempel of California during a research visit to the Central State Historical Archive in Leningrad (now St. Petersburg) a number of years ago. The census was copied by hand because the original was in very poor condition and could not be photocopied.

In 1997 a microfilm copy of the census was made in St. Petersburg and brought to several North American Mennonite archives. In 1998 a typed Russian language transcription written by Peter Rempel of Moscow was purchased by the Manitoba Mennonite Historical Society and brought to Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Copies of the David Rempel transcription have been deposited in several archives throughout North America, including the Center for Mennonite Brethren Studies, Fresno, and the Centre for Mennonite Brethren Studies, Winnipeg. The Peter Rempel transcription is at the Centre for Mennonite Brethren Studies, Winnipeg, and the Mennonite Heritage Centre, Winnipeg.

This English translation was compiled by Richard D. Thiessen, Winnipeg, was revised 10 July 1998, and reformatted 30 March 2020.

All names have been standardized.
