

Fuerstenland Agricultural Census for 1917

State Archive of Zaporozhye Oblast Fond 254 Opis 1 Files 444 and 459

Extracted and translated by Tatiana Drozdova (Chelyabinsk); introduction and GRanDMA database numbers by Glenn Penner (Winnipeg) (gpenner@uoguelph.ca)

In 1917 an agricultural census was carried out throughout Imperial Russia. For details of what is typically contained in the census, see the introduction for the Molotschna census here. Although the 1917 census names only the household head, it is a genealogical gold mine. Patronymics are given for the household head. Ages of all family members registered under the household head are given, as well as their relationship to the household head. Much additional agricultural and economic information on the family is provided. Many of the males over the age of 21 were inducted into alternative military service – mostly as medical workers [Sanitätsdienst].

Unfortunately, the available census is incomplete. Cards for 126 families, which include a total of 746 persons, have been recovered. This is less than half the Mennonite population of the Fuerstenland colony at the time. The whereabouts of the missing cards is unknown. Another, very unfortunate aspect of the available census is the fact that the ages for 197 males are obscured by the tight binding of the document (noted in the table with the word hidden). So far, the Zap. Archive has refused our requests to unbind the documents. This had made assigning GM numbers a difficult and lengthy procedure.
