

The 1835 Revision List (Census) of the Molotschna Mennonite Settlement

Odesa State Archives Fond 89 Opis 1 Delo 1

Glenn Penner (gpenner@uoguelph.ca)

About a year ago, despite the Russian invasion of Ukraine, I was able to obtain high-resolution photographs of the entire 1835 Molotschna Revision List (RL) from the Odesa state archives in Ukraine. A translation of the census, based on these new scans, is found below. I have worked through the entire census, person-by-person, and added image links to the village census images for each person in their GRanDMA (GM) database profiles. In the process of adding image links I was able to fix a large number of database errors. I would like to emphasize in the strongest terms that the purpose of this project was not to correct the many, many errors found in the GM database for the families who appear in this census. Hopefully this translation will help those who want to correct these errors. Please direct questions or corrections to the spreadsheet or GM database data directly to me at the email address above.

For an introduction to Mennonites in Russian Revision Lists see my article in the March 2024 issue of the Mennonite Historian (<https://www.mennonitehistorian.ca/50.1.MHMar24.pdf>), and for a discussion of the 1835 Molotschna RL see my article in the June 2024 Mennonite Historian (<https://www.mennonitehistorian.ca/50.2.MHJun24.pdf>), and temporarily available at https://www.mennonitegenealogy.com/russia/The\_1835\_Molotschna\_Colony\_Revision\_List.pdf.

Comments added in pencil in Russian are shown in red.

Comments added in German are shown in blue.

Immigration years taken directly from the census are in black, implied immigration years are in green. The RL gives an immigration year for a household head and all household heads listed after that person immigrated in the same year until a different immigration year is given. Therefore it is implied that those household heads listed after an immigration year, immigrated in that year, until a different year appears. Having said that, it should be noted that an immigration year is likely the year the household head, or his father, was registered to a Mennonite village in Russia.

Immigration years are for the head of the household only and do not necessarily apply to other members of the family. For example, a few household heads have immigration years which predate their birth years. In those cases, the immigration year is that of his father. All immigration year citations of the 1835 RL for other family members have been removed from the GRandMA database since the immigration years given in the 1835 RL refer only to the household heads.

All first names, surnames and location names have been rendered in a standard form for easier searching and sorting. Note that since the original document is written in Russian Cyrillic the spellings of the transcribed proper names are completely meaningless.

The 1835 RL includes patronymics for all household heads and males living with families, who were not immediate family members. I have cited the census as a “general source” in the GM database for many of these fathers in cases where the father has no other source, or when I thought it was important to include the census as a source.

One of the great features of this census is the inclusion of patronymics for all household heads, and many other males included in the census. As per Russian tradition, the patronymic tells us directly the name of the man’s father. There are several patronymics which are known to be incorrect. There are also many cases where the patronymic is suspect. It is interesting that, in many of these cases, the patronymic is identical to the man’s first name. It is also interesting that many of the suspect, or wrong patronymics are for men who arrived after the 1816 census and died before the 1835 census. It seems possible that the wife (who would have married in Russia and likely never have known her older husband’s parents) and children (who also may have never known their Prussian grandparents) were unable to provide a patronymic for the deceased household head.

Note that numbers for each person in the GRandMA database are not included. This project took me 7 months and a several hundred hours to complete. Adding GM numbers would have added too much time and was not part of the purpose of the project (see 1st paragraph). I am working on this and will, hopefully, have a version with GM numbers in a few months. I am writing this in the hope that someone does not take it on themselves to do this and then find out that they have wasted their time duplicating what I am already doing.

I was able to make a correction to several hundred notes. Where the original note said, “he moved away from there”, I have replaced “away from there” with information on the actual village the person moved to. This problem originates with the very poor quality of the 1st microfilm of the census, as described in detail in the Mennonite Historian articles mentioned above.

I have tried to make image links from GM database to scans of the original census for that person's village for every person in the census. The person who originally entered the 1835 census data into the GM database included the census village names and family numbers in the notes for nearly everyone in the census. I have added several, but they are still missing for some.

Having the data for this census allows one to do statistical analyses without too much work. For example, the immigration years for household heads is given in a single column. Below is a plot of the number of household heads per year immigrating to Russia for the years 1788 to 1833. One can see that there was a sharp spike for the years 1803 and 1804, a large immigration during the years 1817 to 1820 and another small spike in 1827. Altogether over 80% of household heads in the 1835 census immigrated during these years.

The graph below shows the age distribution for the Molotschna colony in 1835. According to the data from this census, over one-half of the Molotschna colony was under the age of 18! Looking at the other end of the graph one can determine that less than 2% of the population was over 65, the age considered for generations as the retirement age in North America. Compare this to the 2021 Canadian census, which give 19% of Canadians as over 65. Of particular note is the very few octogenarians in this census. Only 3 people (out of over 9,000) were over 80 years old, and not one person in the entire colony was over 85!

I have also included a table (see below) counting the males and females in each village, as well as the date the census was taken for each village.
